

Two Metros are all-staters

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Andy Lyons scored two goals to lead West Des Moines Dowling to a 3-1 win over Waterloo High for the state prep hockey championship at the Des Moines Ice Arena Sunday.

The Sioux City Metros finished last in the tournament when they lost the battle for seventh place to Arkeny 6-5 Sunday but did place two members on the all-state first team. They were defenseman Brent Hartman and forward Clay Wiffen.

In the title game, Frank Cataldo had 36 saves for Dowling, which is the first Des Moines team ever to win the title. Dowling won its championship berth with a 6-1 pasting of West Des Moines

Valley Saturday.

Waterloo Columbus, which won the title the first three years of the tournament, whipped Valley, 4-2, in the consolation match. Steve McIntee scored two goals for Columbus, which took a 3-1 loss from Waterloo Saturday night.

In the other final-day game in the fourth annual state prep hockey tournament, Urbandale defeated Des Moines Hoover 3-1 for fifth place.

Others named to the first all-state team for Division I were goalie Eric Petersen of Waterloo; defensamen Mike Hoshaw of Valley and forwards Rick Radcliff of Valley and Barney Munro of Dowling.
